

Bangladesh

U.M. Habibun Nessa (Habiba)

Assist to governance, gender and advocacy initiatives
Email: ameeo79@yahoo.com

Habiba is currently is a freelance consultant on conflict transformation specifically assisting people in resolving their conflicts, be it a family, intra- or inter-group/community conflict. She is also involved with Naripokkho doing some research work on violence against women. As a lawyer, she continues to provide legal counseling as well as conducting trainings on Human Rights, violence against women (VAW), and Peacemaking, among others. She is also involved with a team formulating policies/laws regarding VAW, a joint working team of government and non-government groups. She received commonwealth fellowship for a three months course on "Government Relations with NGOs and Civil Society" at the University of Glasgow in Scotland.

Nasir Uddin (Nasir)

Gono Unnayan Prochesta
Email: nua53@yahoo.com

Nasir is currently the director of Gono Unnayan Prochesta (GUP), a national NGO in Bangladesh working to increase participation of people in conflict transformation, peacebuilding and protection of human rights, communal harmony at family and community levels, inclusive of public institutions. Nasir has been engaged in social work since mid-seventies as a volunteer of Service Civil International. He is also associated with various national and regional networks including South Asia Peace Alliance (SAPA).

Abu Hanif (Hanif)

Concern Worldwide-Bangladesh
Email: abu.hanif@concern.net; abu.hanif7@gmail.com

Hanif currently involved with Concern Worldwide-Bangladesh as monitoring and evaluation expert. They work for the extreme poor people, developing and implementing projects under four poverty transformation context/programme. He is also leading a local NGO called Peace Reflection and Development (PRD) Foundation working for reducing gender based violence and building peace at HH and community level targeting garments women workers and their children. Hanif completed his Masters in Development Studies from Southeast University, Dhaka in 2006.

Khandker Ali Ahmed - Bangladesh

Asian Resource Foundation - Thailand
Email: aliahmed24@gmail.com

Ali has over 18 years of professional experience in the field of local level planning ensuring the participation of stakeholders. The expertise encompasses facilitating strategic planning and participatory development processes utilizing different PRA tools and techniques. He is experienced in conducting research (both quantitative and qualitative) Involved in project management, administration, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation, and institution development. He has experienced working with various national and international organizations, including NGOs, civil society organizations and professional organizations. He is associated with different organizations and networks related to conflict transformation and peacebuilding. He is presently residing in the USA but associated with Asian Resource Foundation, Thailand.

Asad Sarder

UNDP – Bangladesh

Email: asad_sarder@yahoo.com

Mr. Asad has over 14 years of working experience in the field of broader human rights, peacebuilding, sustainable development, environmental issues and governance. He has served with national and international NGOs along with bilateral aid agencies as a program officer. He has expertise on project designing, budgeting, administration, program cycle management and participatory monitoring. Mr. Asad has written articles published in various national and international journals, dailies and magazines. He has Masters in Geography from Dhaka University and a Graduate Certificate in Conflict Transformation. He also holds PGD's (Post-graduate Diplomas) in Development Planning; Children, Youth and Development; Human Rights and Legal Aid. He completed his second MA in Applied Conflict Transformation Studies from Pannassastra University in Cambodia. Presently he is working with UNDP Bangladesh and managing a project on Village Courts in Bangladesh.

